

I am so worried about the consolidation of ownership of the media, and the latest evidence that the public welfare and democracy is at stake with this issue is Sinclair Broadcasting's decision to force their stations to air an anti-Kerry documentary days before the election. This sets an extraordinarily dangerous precedence!

Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. To air a partisan documentary, at such a crucial time, is not only bad taste, but a flagrant disregard of fairplay.

Sinclair's actions show why we need to strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. Please FCC, step up to the plate and rescue American values by not allowing media oligopolies.

Thank you,

Judy Zehr
